

IN EASTERN CUBA.

Gen. Lawton, in New York, on Leave of Absence, Tells of Affairs There.

THE GENERAL SITUATION IS GOOD.

Never in the History of Santiago de Cuba Was the City as Clean as It is Now.

Business is Reviving, Confidence Among Merchants is Almost Completely Restored.—The People Accept the American Government.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Brig. Gen. H. W. Lawton, of the military department of Eastern Cuba, arrived in this city Wednesday accompanied by his aides. The general, who has been granted a leave of absence for 60 days on account of ill-health, looked fairly well and said that the voyage had done him a great deal of good.

He will make an extensive report of the condition of affairs in the department of which he had charge while in Cuba. Speaking of the condition of affairs in Santiago and other portions of eastern Cuba, Gen. Lawton said:

"The general situation is good and Gen. Wood, who is now in charge, is rushing the sundry work to completion as fast as possible. The people down there claim that in the history of Santiago the city was never so clean as it is at the present time. Business is reviving and confidence among business men is almost completely restored. Capitalists are now investing money. The people have accepted the United States government with the utmost confidence."

When asked as to the feeling in general about annexation, the general looked quizzically at his questioner and said he was not prepared to talk about that matter just now. He added, however, "the great trouble is that the Cubans have an army. However, the great majority of the Cuban troops are anxious to disband. I was fortunate in having portions of the Cuban army under me, and was on intimate and most friendly terms with Gen. Calixto Garcia. This friendship brought about a much better state of feeling between the American troops and those in Garcia's command than had existed before."

"No serious breach of the peace and no robberies have been reported as having occurred in eastern Cuba. Many of the Cuban soldiers are gradually leaving the army and returning to civil occupation."

GENERAL LAFAYETTE

THE STEAMER ST. LOUIS.

It Received a Hearty Greeting on Its Arrival at Southampton, Eng.—Old Glory Floating Over the Public Buildings.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 20.—The American line steamer St. Louis, Capt. Rand, which left New York on October 12, arrived here Wednesday and received a hearty greeting, this being her first trip across the Atlantic as a passenger steamer since she entered the service of the United States government as an auxiliary cruiser in the outbreak of the war with Spain. American flags were flying from all the public buildings here, the church bells were rung, large crowds assembled on the quays, and the United States consul, representatives of the American line and delegations from the various public bodies of Southampton, met the steamer on board a tender.

Lafayette Day in Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 20.—The schools of Pittsburgh and Allegheny held appropriate exercises Wednesday incident to the observance of Lafayette day and in many of the schools the exercises were very impressive. In the Pittsburgh schools a collection was taken up for the monument fund and quite a sum was secured. This was not the case in the Allegheny schools, which merely held memorial exercises.

Li Hung Chang and Dowager Empress Wed. VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 20.—News-papers received here by the steamer Empress of Japan, which arrived Wednesday morning from Hong Kong and Yokohama, publish the amazing statement that Li Hung Chang and the dowager empress of China have been secretly married.

Reported Engagement Between Philippine Insurgents and Americans—There Were Losses on Both Sides.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says: "Capt. Aunon, the minister of marine, has received a dispatch from Manila and nouncing a naval engagement between the Americans and the rebels, in consequence of Adm. Dewey forbidding the latter to fly the rebel flag from their ships. The dispatch adds that there were losses on both sides, but that the Americans captured the rebel ships."

"The scene of the engagement is not stated but it is supposed to have been Manila bay."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—As far as could be ascertained no information regarding the reported naval engagement has been received at the navy department, nor has Gen. Otis, commanding the United States troops at Manila, made any reference to it in any communications he may have made to the war department. The dispatch created considerable interest in Washington. Recently the newspapers contained a statement that Adm. Dewey had dispatched one or two of his ships to another portion of the Philippine group on a mission of some importance, and the suggestion is made unofficially that it may have been these vessels which have been engaged in combat with the insurgents.

THEY DID NOT SHAKE.

Gen. Shafter Did Not See or Absolutely Ignore the Rescued Hand of Gen. Miles at the Chicago Jubilee.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Gen. Shafter either did not see Gen. Miles' extended hand when the two men met on the reviewing stand Wednesday, or he absolutely ignored it. At any rate, the two generals did not shake hands. When Gen. Miles entered the reviewing stand and approached the president's box the chief executive gave him a simple nod of recognition. When Gen. Shafter came up the president arose from his chair and grasped the hand of the commander of the army of invasion warmly and shook it effusively. These incidents took place in the presence of fully 10,000 people, and they were the talk of the city Wednesday night.

EMPEROR NOT DEAD.

He is, However, in the Greatest Danger.—Immediate Action to Restore Him to Power is Urged by the Reformers.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Globe Wednesday afternoon published a dispatch from Shanghai saying Prince Henry, of Prussia, is returning to Peking in order to demand an audience with the emperor. The dispatch adds that an intimate friend of the reformer, Kang Yuwei, named Richard, a resident of Peking, in an interview has affirmed that though the emperor is not dead he is in the greatest danger.

Richard also urged immediate action to restore the emperor to power, pointing out that there is now a unique opportunity for suppressing the dowager empress' faction, clearing the way for substantial progress and re-establishing British prestige.

PLANS TO END STRIKE.

The Virden Coal Company May Appeal to Courts—A Federal Receivership Proposed by the Company.

VIRIDEN, Ill., Oct. 20.—As near as can be learned here it is the intention of the Chicago-Virden Coal Co. to let the deplorable conditions now existing here be adjusted in the courts. It was ascertained Wednesday that plans are now being made which will bring about this result. The plan contemplates a federal receivership. Whether this can be brought about is questioned. Such receivership has proved the solution of other strikes, but conditions are different in this case, and it is doubted by some whether a federal court can be found which will admit that it has jurisdiction over the case.

MORE TROOPS FOR MANILA.

Transport Steamer Valencia Leaves San Francisco With Soldiers Aboard—The Ohio Will Leave in a Few Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The transport steamer Valencia sailed Wednesday afternoon. The second battalion of the Washington regiment, under command of Lieut. Col. Fife, was transferred from the Angell Island barracks Wednesday by the government tug McDowell, and batteries A and D of the California heavy artillery, marched from the Presidio reservation. The soldiers received an ovation both on land and water. The Valencia will be followed in a few days by the Ohio, which will take 800 men to Manila.

THE BIG PARADE.

Crowning Glory of the Week of Jubilee in Honor of Peace at Chicago.

ABOUT THIRTY THOUSAND MEN IN LINE.

Moved for Four Hours With Scarcely a Single Halt Through the Principal Streets of the City.

President McKinley Reviewed the Parade From the Grand Stand in Front of the Union League Club—Decorations Spoiled by Storms.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Wednesday came the spectacular and crowning glory of the week of jubilee, the great street parade. It started from the corner of Michigan avenue and Congress street promptly at the time scheduled, and for four hours it moved swiftly and with scarcely a single halt through the principal streets in the business portion of the city. The one drawback was the weather. The ill-fortune which has attended the jubilee in this respect since the commencement of the ceremonies still continued. The skies were dark and threatening, the cold, damp wind of Lake Michigan blew unceasingly. This made little difference in the column of the marchers, and still less in the number of spectators who lined the sidewalks, crowded the windows and wedged themselves into every nook from which an advantageous view of the parade could be had.

President McKinley reviewed the parade from the grand stand erected in front of the Union League Club on Jackson street. On the stand with him were Gen. Miles, Gen. Shafter, Gen. Chaffee, Secretary Wilson, Judge Emory Speer, the Chinese and Korean ministers and a host of lesser dignitaries.

Directly the 7th infantry had passed, the president left the reviewing stand, going into the club house. Three cheers were given him as he left, and three cheers were near to being the death signal for many people. All day long the pressure of the crowd on the police lines at the two ends of the square in the center of which the Union League club house is situated had been enormous. Time after time the utmost efforts of the officers had been unable to withstand the weight of the crowd. Their lines had been frequently broken and the officers were well nigh exhausted with their long hours of hard work.

They opened their lines just as the crowd in front of the club house was cheering the president, and the crowd, thinking some new excitement was on, hastened from both ends of the square toward the center. Seeing the awful crash that must inevitably ensue, the police made desperate efforts to push the crowd back toward the end of the square, but without avail. Detachments of soldiers and marines were hurried to their assistance, but in a short time they, too, were powerless. Finally, after the most desperate pushing, the marines managed to clear a small space, and forming in line they fixed bayonets and standing shoulder to shoulder they tried to hold back the crowd. The thing was, however, beyond the power of mortal man, and seeing that the bayonets must infallibly result in loss of life if kept on the level, the marines snatched them off and then it was all over. Marines, soldiers and policemen were mixed in the crowd, utterly helpless and lacking even the ability to raise their hands to their shoulders, so close was the crowd packed.

Tighter and tighter the crowd became and then came from women and men cries of distress and calls for help. A large stand had been erected on the north side of the square opposite to the clubhouse on vacant ground upon which the new post office is in course of erection. All along the edge of this stand hands were reached to the struggling crowd below and hundreds of men, women and children were dragged anyhow, everywhere, by the arms and legs and collars into the stand above. Cloaks, overcoats and dress skirts were torn to shreds and in numerous instances torn completely from the bodies of the wearers as the rescuers above dragged them hastily over the railings. In many instances some of those who were being hauled from the jam would be half way to safety when those below would attach themselves with a frantic clutch to the upgoing man or woman and then, between the pulling above and pulling below, the person in the middle would have a sorry minute or two. After nearly half an hour of this sort of thing the crowd was thinned out so that a long breath was possible and comparative quiet was restored. No lives were lost, but there never was a more narrow escape from a long list of fatalities.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—For the third time since their commencement the jubilee festivities were shifted to the interior of the Auditorium, and the third and last scene to be enacted within the great hall was the most brilliant, beautiful and successful of them all. It was the great national peace jubilee banquet tendered to the president of the United States and distinguished guests by the citizens of Chicago. No similar event ever held within the Auditorium surpassed in brilliancy and simple elegance the banquet of Wednesday night. No similar event ever held there was more successfully managed or brought to a more triumphant conclusion. The managers of the great ball of Wednesday night made practically no attempt to beautify the hall. The funds derived were to be devoted to the relief of the suffering soldiers and sailors of the late Spanish-American conflict, and that these funds might be as large as possible, the managers of the ball made no expenditures beyond those necessary to assure the social and financial success of their undertaking. Wednesday night, however, this consideration was no longer present. It was Chicago's tribute to the president, the members of his cabinet, the commanders of the victorious armies that invaded Cuba and Porto Rico, to other distinguished officers of the army and navy, and to other guests of note who had come to witness the celebration of the coming return of peace. Nothing that could make the occasion a success was wanting. The hall was most tastefully decorated with festoons of smilax caught here and there by clusters of American beauty and La France roses. In the center of each of the 33 long tables, placed for the accommodation of the guests, were banks of the same bright flowers, banked with ferns, while at either end groups of roses and smilax were tastefully arranged. Upon each table was a profusion of lights shaded, some in a delicate shade of orange, others in pink, and still others in crimson. The soft light from the many hundred lamps, the brighter glare from the grouping of electric lights around the edge of the hall, and the innumerable bright lights of the Auditorium itself made a scene of surpassing beauty.

Twelve hundred guests, among them men prominent in all branches of business, science, art, men of brilliant record upon the sea, and men famed for deeds of arms done on shore, were standing by their chairs, when a tap from the gavel of Franklin MacVeagh, the presiding officer, announced the approach of President McKinley.

The orchestra struck up "Hail to the Chief," and as the strains of the old welcoming march were heard, the president, attended by the jubilee reception committee, came down the center aisle, bowing right and left in acknowledgment of the applause his presence evoked. He was escorted to his seat at the west end of the hall, and as he took his seat, the 1,200 guests followed his example, only to rise an instant later, while Dr. Frank Crane delivered a short and eloquent invocation. Then for two hours the material wants of 1,200 men received close and careful attention.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

"When you are sick what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e. Theory) says is best to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."—From Benjamin Franklin.

When you have a bad cold Dr. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it, because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it, because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on Nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition.
